AMENDMENT OF FACULTY BYLAW VII (STUDENT’S ACADEMIC FREEDOM) – SECTION B

Current Wording:

B. After discussing a grade which he/she considers unjust with the teacher involved, a student may appeal it to the chair of the department and to the VPAA. Should one of the agents of appeal be the teacher involved, he/she would have no jurisdiction over the appeal.

Revised language appears in italics

B. After discussing a grade which he/she considers unjust with the teacher involved, a student may appeal it as follows: (1) To the Department Chair, (2) Next, to the Division Chair, (3) If a graduate student, next to the Vice President for Graduate & Continuing Studies, and (4) In either event, finally to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Should one of the agents of appeal be the teacher involved, he/she would have no jurisdiction over the appeal and the student may advance the appeal to the next level.