

'Make A Difference Day' at Beckett House.

Muskingum University Nursing Department students participated in a Make A Difference Day project at The Beckett House in New Concord on Oct. 27. Junior nursing student Chelsea Blamble organized the students to create this project. Nine students, including three sophomores and six juniors, spent the day with the residents, and supplied great prizes for the residents during bingo games. After bingo the students held a "Pretty Nails" event, shown here. The residents lined up to have a hand massage and nails done. Some residents were unable to come to them but still wanted to participate so the girls went to several rooms so that they could also have "Pretty Nails." Some of the girls also stayed for dinner so that they could visit with the residents. Music students also came for the dinner hour to provide dinner music.
