Story: pg 16
Dear Alumni & Friends,

Throughout 2012-2013 our Muskingum community celebrated 175 years of excellence. With great pride in your achievements and with profound appreciation for your commitment, we paid tribute to our historic past and together we moved forward into an exciting future.

Your generosity and your vision are evident across the University. You have brought to fruition five new, state-of-the-art facilities—including our new Louis O. Palmer Gallery—and many significant campus renovation and restoration projects.

You have enabled Muskingum to broaden our range of academic majors, enhance internships and experiential learning offerings, expand study abroad opportunities, and enrich students’ co-curricular development through initiatives such as our new men’s and women’s varsity lacrosse teams.

You have established nine endowed chairs to ensure that superb teaching will remain a hallmark of our University, and you have helped to keep a Muskingum education affordable for our students. Your gifts allow us to bring to life, every day, our timeless mission to educate students intellectually, spiritually, socially and physically.

With this report, we gratefully acknowledge the gifts you have given. We again celebrate the service and dedication of those Muskies who were honored during 2012-2013 with the President’s Medal, Distinguished Service Awards, Honorary Doctor of Science Degrees, Distinguished Faculty Awards, and induction into the Athletic Hall of Fame. And, we introduce you to two young alumni who exemplify what a Muskingum education can mean to individuals and to the global community—and how your gifts transform the lives of those who follow in your footsteps here on this campus.

Thank you, once again, for investing in the future—of our University, of our students, and of the generations and generations yet to come in the unending line of Muskingum alumni. Here’s to the start of the “next” 175 years!

Sincerely,

Anne C. Steele
President

Chair, Development Committee of the Board of Trustees
Our 2013 Undergraduate Commencement celebration began with inspiring words from longtime Muskingum Trustee Myron E. Moorehead II, M.D., ’58, who urged degree candidates to heed the call of service and do their part to change the world.

“Remember that you must first serve before you can lead,” Dr. Moorehead said. “Allow yourself to take a chance so you can make a change.”

Dr. Moorehead delivered the address May 11 at the Baccalaureate Ceremony, drawing on the values that have guided both his professional and civic life. Later that day during the Undergraduate Commencement Ceremony, he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Science degree in recognition of his service and achievements.

The founder and director of the Women’s Laser Institute and the Fibroid Center of New Orleans, Dr. Moorehead pioneered laser microsurgery treatments that provide alternatives to hysterectomy and give hope to infertility patients. As New Orleans’ King Zulu in 1999, he arranged an unprecedented meeting between the kings of that city’s leading African American and white carnival krewes. The formal Lundi Gras (Fat Monday) meeting of the two Mardi Gras leaders has been an annual tradition ever since.

Dr. Moorehead holds a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in biology from Muskingum and a Doctor of Medicine degree from Meharry Medical College in Nashville, Tennessee. He completed his residency in obstetrics and gynecology and served at the United States Air Force.

He is a leader in multiple professional societies, has served on many boards of directors, and was chairman of the board of Xavier University of Louisiana and of the Greater New Orleans Foundation. Dr. Moorehead and his wife, Patricia, live in Kenner, Louisiana. They have three children.

Push Forward Fearlessly

D. Tom McCalmont ’76 Urges Graduates to “Push Forward Fearlessly”

Muskingum Trustee D. Tom McCalmont ’76 called on the Class of 2013 to “Make good use of what you know, and push forward fearlessly.”

It was a fitting message from a serial entrepreneur who has tapped his knowledge to earn 13 patents and a place among the nation’s solar energy pioneers. McCalmont also reminded graduates that one individual—in his case, an extraordinary teacher who provided a difference that lasts a lifetime.

In addition to serving on the Muskingum Board of Trustees, McFadden is a member of the Santa Clara University Industry Advisory Board, Joint Venture: Silicon Valley. He is also a co-founder and chairman of SolarTech, a non-profit public/private consortium that tackles the technological and market challenges that hinder the widespread adoption of solar energy.

Susanne Hussey Burlingame ‘63

The President’s Medal honors those who have distinguished themselves by their exemplary actions on behalf of others and on behalf of Muskingum University. Susanne Hussey Burlingame ‘63, the inaugural recipient, was awarded the medal at the 2013 Alumni Weekend Convocation.

Susanne Hussey Burlingame ‘63 was awarded the President’s Medal for embracing a life of service and having a powerful, enduring impact on our University, her community and communities across the nation. She accepted the award with humility, saying, “I share this award with my deserving classmates. I am honored to be among the Long Magenta Line of alumni whose lives have been transformed by our Muskingum education—and who recognize our responsibility to provide that same opportunity to future generations.”

She earned her Muskingum Bachelor of Science degree magna cum laude in chemistry. Throughout her life, she has demonstrated a strong commitment to education, as a teacher of high school chemistry and mathematics, and as a champion of the local library and its seminal role in opening the doors to knowledge for community members of all ages.

A dedicated volunteer, Sue Burlingame devotes her time and talents to her Presbyterian Church, civic groups in her Chatham, New Jersey communities, and the Pioneers, the largest industry-related service organization in the world. Formally known as the Telephone Pioneers of America, the Pioneers group links current and retired telecommunications employees across the United States and Canada. She has worked in partnership with her husband Harold W. (Hal) Burlingame, Class of 1962, to develop the capacity of the Pioneers and enhance the organization’s ability to carry out its grassroots mission of service “country to country, city to city, and neighbor to neighbor.” She has helped her community build on the foundation of a significant Pioneers initiative to feed the homeless, sharing her expertise and service ethos in the creation of the Interfaith Council for Homeless Families. Now known as Family Promise of Morris County, New Jersey, this non-sectarian, non-profit agency brings together more than 1,600 congregants from 75 congregations of differing faiths to provide shelter and services for homeless children and their families.

Since Hal Burlingame’s 1994 election as Chair of the Board of Trustees, Sue Burlingame has served Muskingum by designing and leading significant special events for alumni and friends across the nation, campus community members, and Trustee families. She has joined Hal Burlingame in generous philanthropy to Muskingum, which has shaped the University’s future and helped ensure that its historic excellence will continue to endure throughout time.

Sue and Hal Burlingame are the parents of Marjorie Burlingame Hancock, Class of 1991, and Betty Burlingame Wood. Their Muskingum legacy family includes their mothers M. Elizabeth Pickens Hussey, Class of 1932—once of Muskingum’s first graduates to major in geology—and Elsie Wagner Burlingame, Class of 1960.
Hugh Martin '09
Poet and Stanford Fellow

Hugh Martin '09 was at Muskingum for one semester when his Army National Guard unit was called to serve in Iraq. Eighteen months later, he returned to Muskingum and honed the skills that enabled him to give witness to his Iraqi experiences—and to earn national recognition as a poet.

Martin is a Stegner Fellow in the Creative Writing Program at Stanford University in California, an honor reserved for five poets worldwide each year. The Stegner Fellows also were named a 2013 Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle selection. Two of Martin's essays have been published in The New York Times "At War" blog.

"Most of my work is inspired by my experience in the war," Martin said. "Generally speaking, if you're involved in anything as foreign or dangerous as combat, you're going to want to talk about it in some way. It's challenging, but it also feels good to express it to the world."

Hugh Martin wrote his first poems for a class at Muskingum. His professors recognized his talent immediately and provided the support that set him on his current course. Faculty members encouraged him to keep writing and to serve in Iraq. Martin wrote his first poems for a class at Muskingum. His professors recognized his talent immediately and provided the support that set him on his current course. Faculty members encouraged him to keep writing and to go on to graduate school.

As a result, in addition to his bachelor’s degree from Muskingum, Martin has a Master of Fine Arts from Arizona State University. He also is succeeding in a career that he otherwise would not even have considered.

“I don’t know what I’d be doing now if I hadn’t taken creative writing at Muskingum,” Martin said.
From May through September, Dr. Amy Iler ’05 can be found scouring the meadows and forests surrounding Colorado’s Rocky Mountain Biological Laboratory (RMBL), examining flowers, tracking hummingbirds, and recording plants’ responses to warmer temperatures.

A post-doctoral research associate in the University of Maryland Department of Biology, Dr. Iler’s primary interest is plant community ecology. Five months of the year, she is stationed at RMBL, engaged in research with her advisor, Dr. David Inouye.

Drawing on four decades of data on over 120 plant species, the two scientists have concluded that rising temperatures are affecting plants and broad-tailed hummingbirds. The biologists’ findings were reported in the journal Ecology and highlighted by the National Science Foundation.

Dr. Iler’s first conservation-related field experience came the summer between her sophomore and junior years at Muskingum, when she was selected for an internship with the Audubon Center for Research of Endangered Species (ACRES) in Louisiana. At the time, Muskingum Trustee Myron E. Moorhead II, M.D., M.D., 58 served on the board of the Audubon Nature Institute, which runs ACRES. He encouraged Muskingum students to apply for the intern slots.

When Dr. Iler looks back on that summer, she remembers helping to herd whooping crane chicks and bringing them indoors to safety during Tropical Storm Bill. She also recalls how the experience reinforced her determination to pursue a career that reflects her appreciation for biodiversity.

The internship is one of many reasons Dr. Iler treasures her ties to Muskingum. “I am honored to be associated with such a great institution,” she says. “It really is a special place.”

Dr. Iler has a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in conservation science from Muskingum and a doctoral degree in evolution, ecology and organismal biology from The Ohio State University.

Rex Hoon ’48, Special Category
Doug Morgan ’90, Football
Laurie Deal ’93, Women’s Basketball
Ashley Layman-Bennett ’02, Volleyball

Four alumni—Rex Hoon ’48, Doug Morgan ’90, Laurie Deal ’93 and Ashley Layman-Bennett ’02—are the 2012 inductees to the Muskingum Athletic Hall of Fame.

Rex was selected for his athletic accomplishments while at Muskingum and for his avid support and loyalty ever since. He earned 11 letters: four each in football and track and three in basketball. He was named All-Ohio Athletic Conference (OAC) in 1946 for football and set the Muskingum record in the discus in 1948. Rex took a break from his studies to serve in the U.S. Army during World War II. He was awarded a Purple Heart and in 2009 was named a Chevalier (Knight) of the Legion of Honor of the French Republic, the highest honor bestowed upon individuals by the French government. Rex earned his Bachelor of Arts degree with majors in health and government. Rex earned his Bachelor of Science degree with majors in business and psychology.

Rex came to Muskingum as a transfer student and made significant contributions to Muskie football. He capped his gridiron career by earning the OAC’s Mike Gregory Award for top offensive lineman in 1989. That same year, he earned Pizza Hut and Don Henson All-American honors. Doug was a two-time All-OAC honoree and a 1989 Preseason All-American. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in business administration.

Laurie, a four-year letterwinner in basketball, scored a total of 1,060 points. She was a member of three straight NCAA Tournament teams and helped lead Muskingum to a second-place finish in the 1991 NCAA Tournament Final Four. Laurie was a member of the 1991 OAC Tournament championship team, the 1993 OAC regular season championship team and was named All-OAC in basketball and track. She set the Muskie record for the high jump, at 5 feet 3 inches, and received the Anne White Strive for Excellence Award for two-sport student-athletes. Laurie earned her Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in speech communication.

Ashley holds the Muskie record for career volleyball blocks, with 630, and ranks second for career kills, with 1,479. In 1998, she was a key member of the NCAA regional championship team, helping lead the Muskies to the Elite Eight. A year later, she was instrumental in the team’s rise to third in the nation at the NCAA Tournament. Ashley was a three-time All-OAC and All-Great Lakes Region honoree and a three-time Academic All-OAC honoree. In 2001-2002 she wrapped up her Muskie career by earning two top honors: the Academic All-American Award and the Clyde A. Lamb Scholar-Athletes Award, which is OAC’s highest academic honor. She has a Bachelor of Science degree with majors in business and psychology.
